BRYAN'S REPUTATION IN RUSSIA

The Russian people are getting queer ideas with regard to the vacations of our Secretary of State, in the Reich, on the leading daily newspapers of St. Petersburg, I find, under the heading "Bryan's Evening Occupations," the following account of the "Chautauqua Circuit": "The editorial is based on the partial misapprehension of the facts, but it is evident not intended to be either humorous or exaggerated."

"The United States has a new sensation. The conflict with Mexico, the case of the murderer Thaw, and Sulzer's fight with Tammany Hall, have all been thrown into the background by the decision of Secretary Bryan to increase his earnings by going into the variety show business. He has just concluded to contract with a traveling Pennsylvania circus known as the 'Chautauqua Association' for a two weeks' tour, in the course of which he will read evening lectures in the intervals between the performances of acrobats, sword-swallowers and clowns in the vaudeville papers there have already appeared big advertisements of a series of lectures to be given by the American Minister of Foreign Affairs in the circus! He is to appear first in Salisbury (State of Maryland), where he will be supported by musical comedians, fiddlers, jugglers, a Florentine orchestra, a Bavarian dancers and a Dickens reader. His engagement for twelve nights, and his pay will be $10,000 a night, exclusive of traveling expenses. The latter will necessarily be heavy, for the reason that the secretary is expected to return every day to his post of duty in the ministry at Washington. Bryan, according to late accounts, is disturbed by the comments of the press on his proposed lectures, and he is to appear there, in the circus where he is to appear there, will be, it is true, light genre performances, but they will not be nearly so prominent as his serious lectures, and will merely furnish a pleasant diversion. The people will be fatigued by the lectures, and the light genre performances are intended only to restore the mental and emotional equipoise of the audience."

There are still a few traveled countrymen in the United States who think that the Recent Circus in London is a public entertainment given in a tent, but only in Russia could the "Chautauqua Circuit" be taken to mean a traveling Pennsylvania circus, where a public that has been fatigued with lectures is refreshed with the "light genre" performances of acrobats, sword-swallowers and clowns—George Kennan, in New York Times.
